

HAVE FAITH
In your community and in its well managed institutions.

THE BRISTOL COURIER

DAILY WEATHER REPORT
Generally fair. Sunday local showers and thunder storms. Not much change in temperature.

VOL. XXVIII.—NO. 19

BRISTOL, PA., SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 24, 1933

PRICE: 2c a Copy; 6c a Week

STOCKHAM REFUSES TO SIGN THE BUDGET AND TAX ORDINANCE

Morrisville Mayor Declares
Tax Cut Is Not Sufficient

FAVORS FOUR MILLS

Points Out Item of $10,000
For Drainage Is Not Necessary Now

MORRISVILLE, June 24.—Mayor Thomas B. Stockham of this place, this week refused to sign the budget and tax ordinance passed by Borough Council which provided for a tax cut of two mills. Mr. Stockham informed Council that a cut of four mills should be provided, instead of two, and called attention to the serious plight of Morrisville taxpayers.

Mr. Stockham pointed to an item of $10,000 provided in the proposed budget for drainage work in the Third Ward, and declared that such work, while necessary, could hardly be undertaken under present economic conditions. He also pointed out that Council should cut the salaries paid to borough employees. None of the borough workers has suffered a salary slash since the depression began, he added.

Replying to the Mayor's veto message, Councilman Young, chairman of the finance committee, declared that the $10,000 item would not be used for the Third Ward drainage work inasmuch as items not considered when the budget was passed have developed and will require that sum. The cost of the new standpipe has exceeded the bond issue, and necessary improvements at the water works must be done this year.

Mr. Young predicted that Morrisville will be forced to borrow money before the year is over. Two mills, he declared, is all the tax cut the borough can safely grant and anything more than that will be merely blinding the taxpayer.

The ordinance was referred to the finance committee for further study. It will be reported back to Council at a meeting next week.

Following Mr. Young's statement, a spirited discussion took place between him and Elwood Kohl, former president of the Morrisville Taxpayers' Association. Kohl attributed Morrisville's financial difficulties to the extravagant policies maintained by Council in the past and pointed to the economies effected by the school board as an example for the borough governing body to follow.

RECOVERING FROM POISON

CAMDEN, N. J., June 24.—More than 85 employees in Camden and Philadelphia factories, about 60 of them women, today were recovering from food poisoning attributed to box lunches they purchased at the gates of the plants from salesmen for a Philadelphia concern.

More than 60 of the victims, mostly girls and women, collapsed at the R. C. A. Victor plant here; 15 men were stricken at the plant of the New York Shipbuilding Company, South Camden, and ten others were felled at their work in the Forrest Laundry, Philadelphia.

SELECT MINISTER BY LOT

LANSDALE, June 24.—Selected by lot at a solemn service as 1,000 members of the congregation looked on, John E. Lapp, a Lansdale grocer, became a minister of the Lansdale Plain Menonite Meeting House.

Of the six candidates who walked to the front of the Meeting House and received books containing slips of paper, Lapp's book alone contained a slip on which was written the verse from Proverbs 16:33—"The Lot Is Cast Into the Lap; But the Whole Disposing Thereof Is of the Lord."

In this simple manner the new minister, who is to serve for life, was selected. The other candidates were Abram Delp, Marvin Ruth, Curtis Rittenhouse, Abram C. Godshall and Abram Rittenhouse.

The six men were arranged in the order of their ages and Lapp, the youngest, drew his book last.

He was ordained at once. Bishop Jonas Mininger, of Elroy, also a minister of the congregation, presided at the service. Bishop Mininger is 80 years old and the Rev. Lapp will take over some of his many duties.

This was the first time in nearly 27 years that a new minister was selected and ordained at the Meeting House. Rev. Jacob C. Clemens, of the Allentown Road, and one of the present ministers of the church, was ordained November, 1906. In a similar service, Abram Wambold, of Harleysville, was named a deacon in 1917.

The new pastor conducts a grocery store here.

LATEST NEWS ----- Received by International News Service Leased Wires.

SEE AMERICA'S VIEW

Geological Museum, London, Eng., June 24.—Emerging from a welter of criticism and hostilities, the first indication came today that many nations desired to climb aboard the American price raising band wagon and quit knocking the American attitude toward the World Economic Conference. This change of heart on the part of European nations was revealed when the drafting committee of the Economic Commission submitted an outline of a proposed agreement to raise wholesale prices of important world primary products by co-ordinating production and marketing.

The committee proposes the agreement should emphasize the following terms:

1. Include all commodities of which there is an excess of production or a surplus of stock.
2. It should be supported by the majority of exporting countries and the majority of producers in those countries with the co-operation of non-exporting nations.
3. The agreement should be fair to all parties including producers and consumers without discriminating against any country.
4. Machinery to enforce the agreement must be worked ably and signatory governments must possess the power to endorse the agreement within their own boundary.
5. The agreement must continue long enough to relieve the world crisis.
6. Nothing must be permitted to jeopardize efficient production.

WORLD CONFERENCE IN STATE OF ANIMATION

Some Prominent Statesmen
Return Home To Consult Governments

AWAIT DEVELOPMENTS

By George R. Holmes
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
GEOLOGICAL MUSEUM, LONDON, England, June 24.—The World Economic Conference was in a state of suspended animation today awaiting next week's clarifying development, which are rightly or wrongly expected to coincide with Assistant Secretary of State Moley's arrival.

Some of the most important continental statesmen, including Finance Minister Georges Bonnet of France and Prime Minister Hendrik Colijn of Holland returned home for the week-end to consult their governments, leaving Prime Minister MacDonald alone to carry on his optimistic attitude toward the parley's future. MacDonald and Secretary of State Cordell Hull, leader of the American delegation, almost alone among the leading statesmen, believe the conference could accomplish any appreciable part of its ambitious program.

Incidentally, Hull's complacent optimism is not shared by the majority of the other American delegates who are distinctly pessimistic. They are thoroughly in accord, however, with President Roosevelt's determination not to agree to anything here which is likely to interfere with domestic recovery at home.

Moley will find himself under a fierce spotlight upon his arrival. For days the London press has been concentrating on the mission, speculating all the way from the possibility he is carrying something startling to save the conference, to the possibility he is going to settle the debts issue.

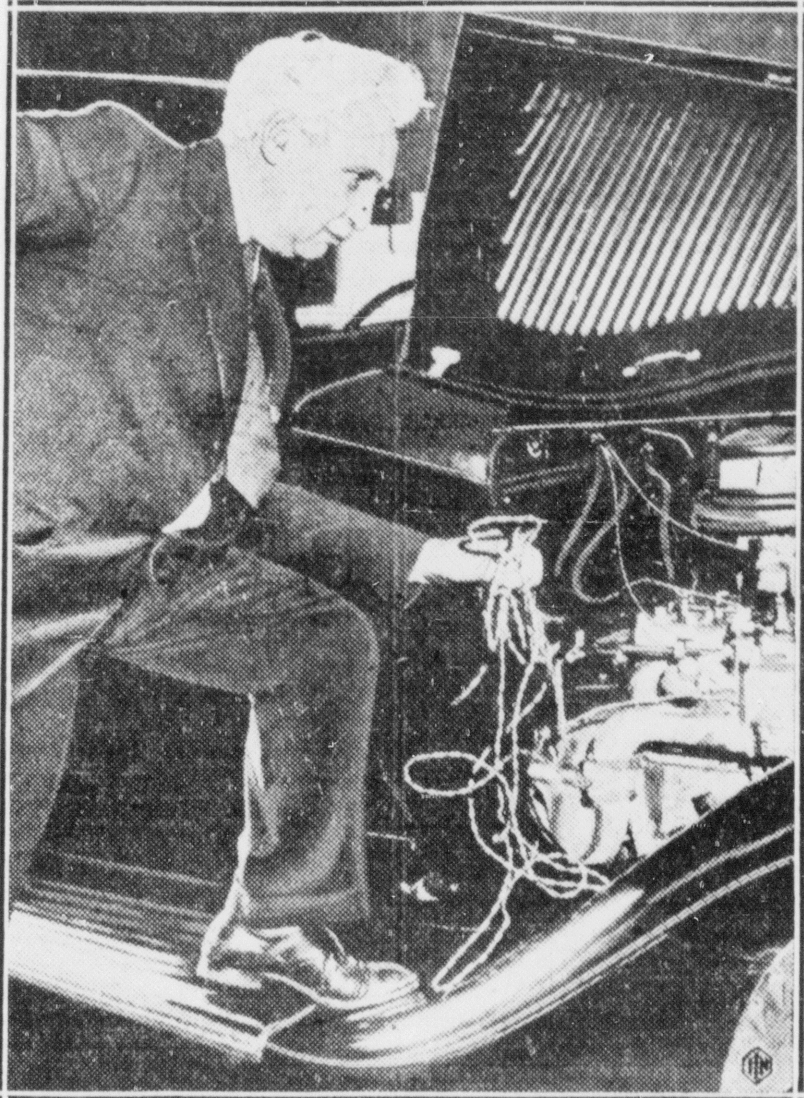

The result has been to focus attention on Moley which is bound to be embarrassing to Hull, since the conference statesmen are looking to Moley rather than Hull for a definition of the American policy. For example, the Daily Telegraph reports that "some leading European statesmen are working out a broad outline of world economic policies which they hope to submit to Moley."

Why they will submit it to Moley instead of to the American Secretary of State requires no effort to explain.

Hull is not moved by rumors he will resign after his return to Washington to be succeeded by Moley or Bernard M. Baruch. Beyond terming the rumors "utter rot" he refused to comment.

The American delegation held a two-hour session reviewing the situation but discussion was only general. Joseph Connolly of the Irish Free State was among Hull's few callers.

Surveying Spiked Bomb Trap

Congressman Charles A. Eaton, of New Jersey, pictured examining the spot under the hood of his automobile where an employee on his estate at Watchung, N. J., discovered a 15-pound bomb, wired to the ignition. Representative Eaton said he knows of no reason for the attempt on his life.

FIFTY FAMILIES BENEFIT FROM GARDENS, YARDLEY

Community Project Accompanied by Free Seeds and Advice

ALL GROWING WELL

YARDLEY, June 24.—In the group which has taken advantage of the offer of garden plots in this section during this summer there are about 50 heads of families. Response to the offer spelled for these half hundred families free seeds, supervision of the plots, and any advice wanted.

Nearly every day or evening the gardens on the Yardley-Morrisville road present an interesting sight. Occasionally people passing in automobiles will stop long enough to watch the men, women and children who are engaged with planting, weeding and hoeing the gardens provided for them by the Yardley Friends Meeting in co-operation with the American Friends Service Committee.

The splendid response to the undertaking gives satisfaction to the committee guiding the work. At a time when relief in all its different forms is a most pressing problem in most communities, many citizens become convinced that too many people are unwilling to help themselves, that direct relief is too easily resorted to, replacing the time honored virtue of self-reliance and independence.

Community Gardens here are a refutation of this view and are a source therefore of civic pride for the community. When the work was started in April, the garden director found many people unwilling to believe that enough interest could be found to make the project worth while. Visitors to the gardens are happily surprised as much at their number as at their condition. In the great majority, the gardens have not only been started but today are witness to much interest and care. Those who have hesitated to take part in the project because of inexperience find caring for their gardens a new and happy venture. They find it valuable not only for the vegetables it puts on their tables but also for the chance of watching things grow and learning the care of them to get best results.

Under the guidance of Garden Director, Hans Burkhardt, the spraying program against the bean beetles has been accomplished and so far no damage to the plants has been done.

At the present plans for a canning demonstration or program are in progress to make possible the full use of all the products grown.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN MEET

A meeting of the Women's Democratic Club of Bucks County was held on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Herman Kirkpatrick, 1910 W. Broad street, Quakertown, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Foulke, Chester County; Webster Achey, of Doylestown, and Mr. Freed, Quakertown, were interesting guest speakers, on timely subjects. Many club members were present, and refreshments were served under the old shade trees by the hostess member, and this constituted the last meeting of the club until September.

NEWTON, Mass.—(INS)—From a questionnaire sent to all victualers in Newton, the Newton License Commission discovered that food sales have jumped 15 per cent since the advent of 3.2 per cent beer.

ARRANGE DATES, TREVOSE FALL FLOWER DISPLAY

Set Same for 14th and 15th of September; Prizes Awarded

HAVE 31 NEW MEMBERS

TREVOSE, June 24.—Dates have been chosen for the Fall flower show of the Trevose Horticultural Society. These are the 14th and 15th of September.

The Fall and Spring shows have grown to such proportions during the past few years that hundreds are attracted to witness the displays.

The Spring show, held a few weeks ago, was of exceptional merit, and sweepstakes prizes were awarded this week for such. Recipients were: Silver medal for open classes, Mr. Meyers, of Frandena Gardens, Elkins Park; bronze medal for artistic arrangement class, Mrs. B. B. Parish, Endfield; bronze medal in amateur class, Mrs. H. H. McComas, Rushland; second prize for artistic arrangement, a book, Miss Anna Westler, Ambler School of Horticulture.

At the next meeting of the society, scheduled for the 18th of July, there will be read six ten-minute papers by club members. The subjects will all be of interest to flower lovers.

Thirty-one new members were received into the organization this week. Robert McKenny, Newtown, has offered a rhododendron plant to the person gaining the most new members during the next month.

M. HUESTON DIES

Word was received here yesterday of the death of Manus Hueston, South Philadelphia, formerly of Bristol. The deceased was well known here. Mr. Hueston had been ill in a Philadelphia hospital for three weeks. High Requiem Mass will be said in St. Edmund's Church, Philadelphia, at 9 a. m., Monday. Burial will be in St. Mark's Churchyard, here.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Michael Edward Paul, 23, St. Peter's, Pa., and Frances Georgia Kotwn, 24, Quakertown R. D. 5.
Howard R. Banteliffe, 22, of 7115 Marsden street, Philadelphia, and Minnie Helen Wagner, 21, of 7113 Dittmar street, Philadelphia.

M. E. Epworth League Has Swimming Party and Roast

The Epworth League of Bristol M. E. Church held a "doggie" roast at Burlington Island last evening. Swimming and games were also enjoyed.

Those participating: Misses Zula Warrick, Helen Taylor, Lucille Rodgers, Helen Appleton, Beulah Stackhouse, Louise Smoyer, Irene Ranck, Violet Ruth Ranck, Noreen Wheeler, Ruth Ludwig, Helen Keller, Marion Walters, Helen Simons; Messrs. William Lyndall, Lester Risser, William Warner, Irvin Scheffey, Bristol; Miss Genevieve Green, Shirley, Ind.; Edward Ballanger, Andalusia; Henry Reichert, Holmesburg.

Death Suddenly Occurs For Leonardo Sinacori

A well-known Italian resident of Bristol died suddenly at his home, 726 Trenton avenue, last night, in the person of Leonardo Sinacori, husband of the late Rose Sinacori.

The deceased had been ailing for some time, but death came suddenly last night. His wife died 10 years ago. He is survived by one son, Vito.

Funeral services, to which relatives and friends are invited, will be held Monday from his late residence, at 9 o'clock, with High Mass in St. Ann's Church at 10 o'clock. Interment will be in St. Mark's Cemetery.

Emilieites Warn of Gypsies' Unwelcome Visits to Homes

Reports heard from the vicinity of Emilie are to the effect that a tribe of Gypsies have been paying unwelcome visits to homes in that section.

Residents of Emilie state that money and articles have been stolen from their homes on the occasion of these visits, and a warning has been issued by the Emilieites in order that others of the section will be on guard.

HULMEVILLE

During this week Mrs. William Stackhouse has been the guest of her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Stackhouse, Easton. Mrs. Stackhouse will return home tomorrow, accompanied by Lawrence Stackhouse and family, the Easton folks remaining for a day's visit.

Kinbel Faust is quarantined with measles.

A goodly number patronized the strawberry festival and bingo party of the Fire Company Auxiliary, held last evening in the fire station.

VISITS FATHER

Wilkins Harker, Jullustown, N. J., week-ended with his father, Harry Harker, 609 Bath street. On Sunday Mr. Harker and guest, and Stanley Keers visited in Hazleton and enjoyed a trip through a coal mine.

SPECIAL EXERCISES

The Children's Day exercises of the Tullytown M. E. Sunday School will be held Sunday evening at 7:30. Following the exercises the Rev. W. Boyer will speak on "Children of the Congo."

TWILIGHT LEAGUE FIRST HALF WON BY "HIBOES"

Dave Ennis in Brilliant Form
Blanks St. Ann's; Three Runs Scored

END OF A DEADLOCK

BRISTOL TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Last Night's Result

A. O. H. 3; ST. ANN'S, 0

With Dave Ennis in brilliant form, the Hibernians blanked the St. Ann's A. A. 3-0, last night on Sullivan's field to win the first half championship of the Bristol Twilight League.

Ennis gave the St. Ann's team three bingles in finishing his job of whitewashing. The three hits were singles and with the exception of the fifth inning, Ennis was never in real danger of being beaten.

In the fifth, an error by Leyden, a

Continued on Page Four

Bendix Racer

Colonel Roscoe Turner, well-known speed flyer, who last year set a record of less than 12 hours for a flight between Mexico City and Los Angeles, is after fresh laurels. He is one of the favored entries in the Bendix Race, from New York to Los Angeles, a feature of the National Air Races, on July 1.

WILLS PROBATED IN NUMBER OF ESTATES

Bequests to Relatives of Late
Mrs. E. Russell; The Feltz Estate

INSTITUTIONS BENEFIT

DOYLESTOWN, June 24.—An estate listed at $2500 was disposed of through the will of Mary A. Horn, Richlandtown, here, within the past few days. The executrix was Mary J. Detweiler, and the estate was bequeathed to a number of relatives.

Bequests were: Mrs. Elizabeth Russell, Richlandtown, $1200; Mrs. Mary Detweiler, Allentown, $400; Mrs. Emma Stevenbach, Richlandtown, $400; Albert Russell, Allentown, $400; Mrs. Martha Clymer, Quakertown, R. D. $200; Hattie Hunsberger, Allentown, $200; bequests of $50 each to Maurice Foulke, Trenton, N. J.; Luther Foulke, Richlandtown; Maude Diehl, Pennsylvania; James and John Horn, of Richlandtown.

Four grandchildren, Leon Feltz, Edith Wiley, George Wiley and Marion Wiley, will be given $50 each, according to the will of Mrs. Margaret Feltz, of Buckingham, who died May 17th. The testatrix left an estate close to a thousand dollars. Victor H. Feltz was named the executor.

Laura W. White, Langhorne Manor, who left an estate valued at $5,000, in a codicil which was added to her will revoked several bequests. To the Newtown Cemetery she left the sum of $200. She also created a trust fund, amounting to $400, for the benefit of the Newtown Preparative Meeting.

A similar amount was directed for the use of the "Academy," which is owned by the New Century Club of Newtown, and was to be placed in trust, however, in a codicil this bequest was revoked.

To a Negro school at Aiken, South Carolina, she bequeathed all her clothing. The First National Bank & Trust Company of Newtown was named the executor.

A caveat, filed in the Register of Wills' office, Tuesday, directed Register of Wills Joseph W. Palmer to not probate any alleged will or codicil of John S. Bunting, of Middletown, who died on June 4, without notice to Marion F. Howell, a daughter; Fred and Albert Bunting, sons of the deceased.

St. Luke's Lutheran Church, of Ferndale, was bequeathed the sum of $50, according to the will of Henrietta Tettemer, of Bridgeton. William Lewis was named the executor of the estate, valued at $10,000. The testatrix, who died April 25, left a legacy of $50 to Union Cemetery of Nockamixon, of Ferndale, the interest of which shall be used to care for her grave.

A sister, Matilda Groover, will inherit $100. She also provided an income for life for Rosella Hager, a daughter. Albert Tettemer, of Willow Grove, was given $1500, and in another paragraph "Albert and William" were given $250.

For the purpose of decorating her graves with flowers on various holidays, the sum of $150 was provided for by the testatrix.

Other wills probated were: Estate of Joseph Mather, Langhorne, $16,000; estate of Charles W. Boyer, of Milford, $1300; estate of Frank M. Xander, of Sellersville, $2600.

Letters of administration were granted to Mary Frey in the estate of

Continued on Page Four

REV. FR. ROMAGNO BESTOWS DIPLOMAS, ST. ANN'S SCHOOL

Class of 22 Girls, 11 Boys Finish
Eighth Grade
Work

RENDER FINE PROGRAM

Salvatore Genco is Valedictorian; Plays, Music,
Speeches Given

With 33 boys and girls prepared to receive their diplomas at the commencement exercises and annual entertainment of St. Ann's School, an exceptionally large group gathered in St. Ann's school auditorium, last evening, to witness the numbers.

The first portion of the excellent program was filled with recitations, vocal numbers and plays by the school children, while during the last portion the valedictory was given by Salvatore Genco, the farewell song sung, and diplomas presented by the rector, the Rev. Marcellini Romagno. Rev. Romagno gave splendid advice to the parents in his address, urging that they continue the good work fostered by the Sisters of the school, and congratulated the students who have completed their studies at St. Ann's.

The graduates included 22 girls and 11 boys as follows:

Salvatore Genco, Joseph Belessi, Peter Caro, Anthony Belmonte, Donald Cordisco, Leo Cicanti, Santo Mastriani, Albert Dirienzo, Rocco Indelicato, Carlo Valori, James Zazzarini, Jennie Amabile, Santina Chilleri, Mary Conca, Mary DiMoia, Louise Galzerano, Lena Genco, Jennie Barraco, Rose Commare, Pasqualina DiMoia, Madeline Ferraro, Katherine Gargarella, Rose Gesuadi, Philomena Gilardi, Pauline Ingrassio, Italia Liberatore, Nellie Pasciulo, Mary Spezzano, Jennie Gulotto, Louise Latina, Mary Scancelli, Rose Spezzano, Elizabeth Squillace.

The forepart of the program included the following numbers by the school pupils:

Jesus, Teach Me How to Pray, first grade; Famous Soldiers, second and third grade boys; The Riddle, second and third grade girls; The Boy and the Girl, fourth grade.

La Bugia, a dialogue between mother and child—mother, Clementina Pisaturo; child, Micheline Galizia; a tap dance, James Berardi.

A juvenile operetta in which the flowers of all nations held a festival to select the Queen of Flowers, was well staged. Participants and their parts were: Flower of Pennsylvania, mountain laurel; cotton blossom, Peter Caro; daisy of New England, Rose Gesuadi; goldenrod, a maiden from the Middle West, Lena Genco; chief judge of the festival, Mary Scancelli; associate justices, Philomena Gilardi and Pauline Ingrassio; English rose, Rose Spezzano; Scotchman, James Zazzarini; Edelweiss (Switzerland), Jennie Amabile; tulip (Holland), Mary DiMoia; Fleur de lys (France), Antonette D'Anni; shamrock (Ireland), Pasquale Tiberti; pomegranate (Spain), Jennie Gulotto; cornflower (Germany), Louise Galzerano; chrysanthemum (Japan), Madeline Ferraro; Anemone (Palestine), Anna Viscuso; lotus flower (India), Pasqualina DiMoia; white lily (Italy), Santina Chilleri; American Beauty, Mary Spezzano.

Violin selections were given by Helen Pavone. A play in three acts, "The Saving of Pug Halley" was presented by: Wilfred Gilman, renamed "Sisile," Peter Caro; Jimmie Dolan, Santo Mastriani; Smooth Spillman, John Gallone; Roy Peechan, Dominic DiNunzio; Herb Mahood, Joseph Belles; Bobbie Brown, Armando Dirienzo; Don Anderson, Rocco Sagolla; Joe Horan, Joseph LaPolia; Rex Magee, Nick Marino; Bob Wilson, Anthony Belmont; Ben Allen, Michael Sionne; Ray Allen, Ralph Rago; Eck Donlan, Salvatore Genco; (Sleepy Hollow) Davis, Leon Calabell; (Bang) McCann, Leo Cicanti; Pug Halley, Carlo Valori; Farmer Hogge, Michael Spinelli, Hogge, Jr., his son called Farmer, Gaspare Genco; Dr. Bonner, Donald Cordisco.

"The Angelus" was presented by the sixth and seventh grades; and "Il Mio Crucifisso," by the fifth grade group.

Cemetery Stock Sells At $32.50 Per Share

Eighty-eight shares of stock of the Bristol Cemetery Land Company were sold at auction this morning in front of the Bristol Trust Company. Fifty shares sold at $32.50; 10 at $31.50; and 28 at $32.

The first 50 shares sold belonged to the Estate of the late Howard Purcell. They were purchased by Robert C. Ruehl, secretary of the company, at $32.50 per share. These were disposed of by Carolyn P. Fellows, executrix of the Purcell Estate.

Howard I. James, attorney, then offered 38 shares belonging to the estate of the late Franklin Gilkeson. Ten of these were bought by Walter F. Leedom at $31.50 per share and 28 by the same purchaser at $32 per share. The par value is $25.

The sale was auctioned at 11 o'clock by Robert Clark.

The Bristol Courier

Established 1910

Published Every Evening (Except Sunday) at 1000 Broad and Garden Streets, Bristol, Pa.

Only Daily Paper in Lower Bucks County

Bristol Printing Company
Owner and Publisher
Incorporated May 27, 1914
Serrill D. Dettison, Managing Editor
Ellis E. Ratcliffe, SecretarySubscription Price per Year, in advance, $3.00; Six Months, $1.50; Three Months, 75c.
The Courier is delivered by carrier in Bristol, Edgely, Tullytown, Bridgeville, Croydon, Andalusia, West Bristol, Humsdale, Bath Addition, Newportville and Torresdale Manor for a cents a week.

The Courier has the most complete commercial printing department in Bucks County. Work of any description promptly and satisfactorily done.

Entered as Second Class Mail matter at the Post Office at Bristol, Pa.

International News Service has the exclusive right to use for republication in any form all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper. It is also exclusively entitled to use for republication all the local and up-to-date news published herein.

SATURDAY, JUNE 24, 1933

HURRY TO WORK

The world wants action, one way or another, on the great problems before the World Economic Conference.

It is in a mood somewhat similar to that of Americans at the time President Roosevelt entered office. It wants to see something concrete done in an effort to get things moving on a world-wide scale. It is little interested in gestures and oratory. If nothing substantial can be achieved then it would like to see the conference adjourn without unnecessary delay, in order that the individual nations might attack their own problems from a new direction.

Chairman Cox of the monetary commission apparently recognizes this and is doing his bit to get the machinery of the conference to moving. His "Gentlemen, let's get down to work," at the opening of the commission's first session, ought to be applied to the entire gathering.

Enough time already has been given to general oratory. It was necessary, in the interest of precedent at least, for a certain amount of speech-making to be had at the outset. Nearly a week was consumed with formalities, none of which will have any direct effect upon the results of the conference.

It is in committees, and in private conversations between and among individual delegates, that most of the real work will be done. The monetary commission is one of the most important groups in the conference. That is buckling down to its task and other committees are moving in the same direction which constitute an encouraging feature of the deliberations.

It is to be hoped the London meeting will set a precedent by doing its work in a comparatively short time and quitting. Should important agreements be reached, the value of these will be increased if they be arrived at promptly. Even failure will not seem so disastrous if a lot of time is not wasted before this is admitted.

NEW INDUSTRY GROWS

Although air-conditioning is a young industry, it is growing at a rate which promises soon, according to engineers, to place it in a position of major prominence.

Its field is almost unlimited. It is being heard of chiefly now in relation to trains. Air-cooled coaches are taking the place of hot, stuffy cars that made train riding in the summer months an ordeal. The latest equipment gives the coaches a cool temperature when the mercury outside may be boiling.

But its use is by no means limited to trains. Dwellings, hotels and factories are included in the field of its use. A good many homes in several of the larger cities already have been equipped with air-cooling apparatus, it was reported at the recent meeting in Chicago of the Edison Electric Institute, air factories and mills are having installations made. The sales manager for a big electric company in St. Louis predicted that as air-conditioning for the home is pushed more vigorously by the power companies it bids fair to be the "next major development in the industry which would compare with electric refrigeration, radio, there is no way of knowing.

From the standpoint of business recovery as well as that of personal comfort, air-conditioning offers great possibilities.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES ARE ANNOUNCED FOR THE BRISTOL CHURCHES FOR SUNDAY AND THROUGHOUT THE COMING WEEK

Friends Meeting

John F. Reich, Haverford, who is connected with the American Friends' Service Committee, Philadelphia, will visit Bristol Friends' Meeting on Sunday, June 25th, at 11 a. m.

The speaker, who is a well-informed Bible student, is the son of Max I. Reich, Fallsington Meeting, a great religious teacher and writer.

First Baptist Church

Sunday School, 10 a. m.; John D. Weik, superintendent; morning worship and sermon, 11, topic, "Disciples Who Never Grow Up." Rev. Howard L. Zepp is pastor.

Bristol M. E. Church

The Rev. Clarence Howell will preach on "The Road to Real Happiness," at the 10:45 a. m. service. In these days of the call of the open road, the lure of travel, and so many places to go, it is exceedingly important that we take the road to real happiness.

The evening service will be in charge of the Epworth League, with various members taking some special part, as follows: Prayer, Nelson Wheeler; selection, "Living for Jesus"; Scripture, Helen Taylor; announcements, Elizabeth Ellis; solo, Carrie Rapp; address, "Parable of the Sower," William Lyndall.

Monday, 6:15 p. m., covered dish social by Ladies' Aid Society. Wednesday, 7:45 p. m., mid-week service.

Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour

Rev. Andrew G. Solis, Th. M., pastor. Church School will meet at 9:45, Sunday, morning worship, in Italian, 11 o'clock.

On Monday at 9:15 o'clock the daily vacation Bible school will begin. This starts on the 26th of June this year instead of the first of July. The pastor hopes to see all boys and girls who have attended in the past years, and some new ones. The usual small charges will be made to help to meet the expenses.

There will be a meeting of the Session in the Sunday School room, Monday night, at eight o'clock.

Harriman M. E. Church

10 a. m., Sunday School, William H. Wilkinson, superintendent; 11, morning worship, Rev. G. W. Shires in the pulpit; 7:45, evening service. This will be a musical service. The Bristol Glee Club will render the following selections: "The Lord's Prayer," "The Lord is My Strength," "Where'er You Walk," "Land Shouting," "Gloria in Excelsis," "Good Night, Beloved."

There will be a duet rendered by Messrs. C. H. Bunting and P. Ford. The Sunday School orchestra will also give several selections, as follows: "Overture, 'Royal Palm'; offertory, 'Dance of the Fairies'; cornet duet, 'The Palm'; violin duet, 'Silver Blossoms'; closing selection, 'On the Hike'.

Monday evening, 8, Senior Brotherhood meets in the basement of the Church; Tuesday, eight p. m., Ladies' Aid at home of Mrs. William Barnfield, 249 Monroe street; Wednesday evening, seven to nine, Junior Brotherhood, basement of the Church; Thursday evening, Bible class "dogie" roast at Bridgewater.

Bristol Presbyterian Church

"Careless Messengers" will be the subject of the sermon at Bristol Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service. Rev. S. B. Knowlton will preach from the text, Prov. 13:17, "A careless messenger is a calamity." (Shofat translation) coupled with the words of the Master, "Go ye . . . and preach the Gospel."

The Church School, with classes for all ages, will meet at ten. The congregation will cooperate in the union service at 7:45 in the Episcopal Church.

Second Baptist Church

A special program will be given under direction of the W. I. C. Club at Second Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Pierce, of Cresmont, will be the speaker, and the choir will sing.

Sunday School will convene at 9:30 a. m.; and there will be preaching by the Rev. E. D. Fells at 11 a. m.

Bethel A. M. E. Church

The pastor will preach at both services in Bethel A. M. E. Church, Sunday, 11 a. m., "Ye Are the Light of the World"; eight p. m., "Long Distance Christians." The church will observe Christ's Birthday Day.

Monday Church Conference; Wednesday, mid-week prayer service, sermon by Rev. W. D. Jones.

COMING EVENTS

June 26—"Doggie" roast at Burlington Island for members of Lily Rebekah Lodge and their families.

June 27—A farewell dance to members of the graduating class, Bristol high school, in high school gymnasium, sponsored by the Mothers' and Fathers' Associations.

June 28—Social by Ladies' Aid, Zion Lutheran Church. Refreshments and entertainment. Covered dish luncheon on lawn of Foster home, Cornwells Heights.

1 p. m., benefit of M. E. Ladies Aid, Red Arrow radio party by P. O. of A. Lodge, in F. P. A. hall.

June 30—Cantata in three acts under auspices of Second Baptist Church in St. James' parish house, Wood and Walnut streets.

July 1—Card party at Delker-Watkins Post home, 129 Radcliffe street, 8:30 p. m.

July 14—Moving picture show on lawn of Grace Church, 8:30 p. m.

July 15—Picnic at Burlington Island for Bristol Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and their families.

July 19, 20, 21, 22—Harriman Hospital lawn fete.

August 3—Annual mid-summer supper of Ladies Aid at Cornwells M. E. Church.

Country fair at Harriman Church grounds, auspices Harriman M. E. Sunday School.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Wesley Cadwell, 21, of 1923 East Dauphin street, Philadelphia, and June Gwendolyn Winterstein, 21, of 1810 East Albert street, Philadelphia.

Otto Schmidt, 52, of 8226 Forest avenue, Elkins Park, and Margaret Patterson, 39, of 6714 Crittenden street, Philadelphia.

Glenn J. Lopez, 38, of 5958 Warrington avenue, Philadelphia, and Beatrice M. Wainwright, 25, of 4736 Griscorn street, Philadelphia.

Clifford B. Ashton, 24, and Eleanor Tetterton, 22, of Lambertville, N. J., Edward Ratner Radcliffe, 24, of 229 West Alhambra street, Philadelphia, and Thelma May Abbott, 24, of 541 Hellerman avenue, Philadelphia.

John V. Holms, 26, and Helen Josephine Volk, 25, Pipersville, Caesar Woodruff, 28, and Rose Lindsay, 30, of 205 Reservoir street, Trenton.

USE WOODEN CRADLE

MELROSE, Mass.—(INS)—The severe wooden cradle which rocked Samuel Fuller of Plymouth Colony who became the first physician of the time of the founding of this part of the country 360 years ago, is being used to lull tiny John Fuller, Jr., a direct descendant of Dr. Fuller. The cradle was taken from its case in Pilgrim Hall and the little fellow given a ride just like his forebears.

Courier Classified Ads will prove their worth in a very short time. Try one, and be convinced!

"STOLEN LOVE"

by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

Copyright by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

CHAPTER XXXI

They both laughed a lot at dinner. There was a big Thanksgiving dinner, with a tremendous turkey, crystal glasses holding old Mr. Barstow's pre-prohibition wine. The red berries glowed in the candle-light, the women's dresses, mauve and rose and blue like rainbows in a dim sky. The others talked . . . a trickle of low conversation, a tinkle of laughter. . . . Joan and Curtis absent, lost in their secret, happy thoughts.

He looked at her, slender and faintly smiling in her rose-colored frock, and she looked at him, dear, loyal, steady and strong and good. Their eyes met, held each other, across the white table. Only they were real. That would soon go away.

"It is very late," Mrs. Barstow said, when Eugenia, a disgruntled nymph in fluttering mauve chiffon, had stopped hammering the old square piano, and gone yawning to bed.

"So it is," Mrs. Lawrence agreed, "and the country is too."

Joan stood up, too. "Oh, don't go yet!" Curtis begged. "Wait till the logs burn down. Mother, tell her it's her solemn duty to sit up with me a while and see the house doesn't catch fire. Besides I'm going to pop some corn, and I'll get sick and die if I eat it all alone, and it will be all Joan's fault. Joan Hastings, if you go away so early, on our last night—"

"But I'll wake Eugenia then—" "The heck with Eugenia—" "Curtis!"

But she stayed. Lyla Barstow saw them, sitting on cushions before the fire before she closed her door. Joan's slender arms crossed her knees, her hair was a halo of gold light in the dim fire lit room. "I can't give him up to her—I can't—I can't," she whispered to her haggard reflection in the mirror. "Oh, Curtis—what can you see in her?"

Outside the wind whispered in the trees, rattling the branches against the shingled roof. The wicker chairs squeaked. Instinctively Joan drew nearer to Curtis. . . . Curtis . . . her only friend.

The wind whirled round the small cabin, rattling the branches against the windows. Softly the pine needles brushed the glass, gently, like little hands. Lyla Barstow thought of the days when the cabin was new, those happy long ago days when her husband was living, and Curtis was a little boy. A little boy in kilts playing with lead soldiers on the living room floor, knocking them down with his fat baby hands, setting them up again, squealing with joy. Rushing to her with every bit of childish news. "Mother, see the red stone I found—look at it—"

And now he sat in the living room with that girl. . . . and she was shut out. Shut out of his heart, because of a girl with a pretty face.

They shouldn't sit up so late. . . . Nora Lawrence would have said something witty to say about it in the morning. . . . She went to the door and listened, hardly daring to breathe. How quiet they were. She wanted to call, "Curtis! Curtis! It's time to go to bed—"

She did when he was ten. But she couldn't do that now.

Quietly she tiptoed back to bed. She must try to sleep.

In the small room off the porch Eugenia stirred uneasily. "This is a fine party, I don't think!"

And in the morning when they started for the long ride home, Eugenia didn't climb into the front seat with Curtis. She left it for Joan. Mrs. Lawrence nudged it for Joan. "Get in!" But Gene wouldn't make the effort. What's the use? Nobody could do anything with Curtis now. Not until he had time to get over it, at least.

"Have a good time?" Francine asked.

"Oh, yes!" Joan's face was glowing, no need to ask.

Ruth watched them talking, from a corner. "I've got something to tell you," she telegraphed to Joan. Something about Bill. Joan knew. Always something to bring her back, just when she had made up her mind.

She steered her heart. "What about?"

Ruth pushed her into one of the empty fitting rooms. "Listen—"

Willum's gone back to Pasadena. Did you know?"

Her round dark eyes were boring into Joan's like gimlets. "No, I didn't know. Why should I?"

"I thought you were such friends."

"Not for a long time."

"But you saw him after the party with Rollo and me at the hotel—"

"Oh—"

"Oh, yes, you did. He told me himself."

"Well, what of it?" she asked defiantly, but the dark color surged over her face. What else had Bill told? Ruth was shocked, it would need only a word, a careless, blundering word.

"For Pete's sake, Joan, what's between you and my boy anyway?"

"He's nothing to me!"

"So it is," Mrs. Lawrence agreed, "and the country is too."

Joan stood up, too. "Oh, don't go yet!" Curtis begged. "Wait till the logs burn down. Mother, tell her it's her solemn duty to sit up with me a while and see the house doesn't catch fire. Besides I'm going to pop some corn, and I'll get sick and die if I eat it all alone, and it will be all Joan's fault. Joan Hastings, if you go away so early, on our last night—"

"But I'll wake Eugenia then—" "The heck with Eugenia—" "Curtis!"

But she stayed. Lyla Barstow saw them, sitting on cushions before the fire before she closed her door. Joan's slender arms crossed her knees, her hair was a halo of gold light in the dim fire lit room. "I can't give him up to her—I can't—I can't," she whispered to her haggard reflection in the mirror. "Oh, Curtis—what can you see in her?"

Outside the wind whispered in the trees, rattling the branches against the shingled roof. The wicker chairs squeaked. Instinctively Joan drew nearer to Curtis. . . . Curtis . . . her only friend.

The wind whirled round the small cabin, rattling the branches against the windows. Softly the pine needles brushed the glass, gently, like little hands. Lyla Barstow thought of the days when the cabin was new, those happy long ago days when her husband was living, and Curtis was a little boy. A little boy in kilts playing with lead soldiers on the living room floor, knocking them down with his fat baby hands, setting them up again, squealing with joy. Rushing to her with every bit of childish news. "Mother, see the red stone I found—look at it—"

And now he sat in the living room with that girl. . . . and she was shut out. Shut out of his heart, because of a girl with a pretty face.

They shouldn't sit up so late. . . . Nora Lawrence would have said something witty to say about it in the morning. . . . She went to the door and listened, hardly daring to breathe. How quiet they were. She wanted to call, "Curtis! Curtis! It's time to go to bed—"

She did when he was ten. But she couldn't do that now.

Quietly she tiptoed back to bed. She must try to sleep.

In the small room off the porch Eugenia stirred uneasily. "This is a fine party, I don't think!"

And in the morning when they started for the long ride home, Eugenia didn't climb into the front seat with Curtis. She left it for Joan. Mrs. Lawrence nudged it for Joan. "Get in!" But Gene wouldn't make the effort. What's the use? Nobody could do anything with Curtis now. Not until he had time to get over it, at least.

"Have a good time?" Francine asked.

"Oh, yes!" Joan's face was glowing, no need to ask.

Ruth watched them talking, from a corner. "I've got something to tell you," she telegraphed to Joan. Something about Bill. Joan knew. Always something to bring her back, just when she had made up her mind.

She steered her heart. "What about?"

Ruth pushed her into one of the empty fitting rooms. "Listen—"

Willum's gone back to Pasadena. Did you know?"

Her round dark eyes were boring into Joan's like gimlets. "No, I didn't know. Why should I?"

"I thought you were such friends."

"Not for a long time."

"But you saw him after the party with Rollo and me at the hotel—"

"Oh—"

So I got sore, and I went to the door, and I said, or I started to say, 'We don't want no peddler or agents.' And it was Callahan—my ex. It sure gave me a stitch in my side."

"As I say, the door was open, with the breeze blowing in and Callahan with his bald head and all. So he came to the door—"

"He was like that, the old butt-in—"

"I never had anything against Callahan. We were talking as you would, meeting your ex husband you hadn't seen in eighteen months, and Callahan takes it I'm working there."

"Oh, well, when Gillespie butts in, Callahan gets sore, and before I could slam the door in his face or get Gillespie away they were at it hot and heavy. Callahan spilled the beans. I had a fierce time with the old man, got suspicious, see? He was never the same old soft-soap after that. You know—it got on his nerves, thinking about Callahan and me. So you take my advice."

She laughed, and showed all her perfect white teeth. "Will we set 'em back something this night? I'll say we will. What are you going to say? The white velvet. Well, you look like a million in it. No wonder, Francine's best model. You've sure got the luck, living with Madame's mother, in so strong you can't get fired, and that good looking Barstow crazy about you. . . . We'll all meet at the hotel. . . . I have to meet some snippers. Did I tell you Rollo gave me six pairs of silk stockings yesterday? French chiffon, $6.50 a pair. . . . Say, don't Curtis ever give you anything but flowers? Just drop him a hint once in a while . . . good night, you're slow."

Joan went home to dress.

There was the taste of ashes, bitter ashes, in her mouth.

Curtis blinked when he had his first sight of Ruth, waiting with Rollo in the lobby of the big hotel.

She floated toward them, Rollo, sparkling with reflected glory, bringing up in the rear. A royal barge, trailing a slight, black dory. The fur coat that the late Gillespie had given her, the close fitting silver gown, shining with a faint blue light, the rhinestone headband, the eight or nine bracelets, she had them all on, every one.

"Now that we're all here—let's say!" Rollo suggested, forgetting that he was the host.

He beamed at Joan vision to his near-sighted eyes. "Looking beautiful as ever. In fact—in fact—"

Five whiskeys and sodas on an empty stomach had left him a little careful about conversation—"I don't know when I've seen you more beautiful. Let's drink the same toast we drank last time we all got drunk together—Beautiful women—Owl—who kicked you?"

"Nobody kicked you. You're drunk!" Ruth cried angrily. "You do make me tired—always tanking up before the party starts—"

"Somebody certainly did kick me. Come to think of it, it was you. Recognize the rhinestones in your heel—been kicked before—"

Curtis' hand found Joan's under the tablecloth. He covered it with his protectively. "You mustn't mind them. That steady, kindly touch meant, 'I'll take care of you.'"

But Joan could not meet his gaze. She knew why Ruth had kicked Rollo. Warning him to be quiet. Not to speak of Bill—

"I was about to say, when I was stepped on," Rollo continued with dignity, "that I would propose the same toast—the same toast—"

"The same toast that you did on the night Bill and Ruth and you and I had dinner here together," Rollo said clearly. And all of a sudden she felt better. Why shouldn't Curtis know about that? What was wrong? And she wouldn't share secrets with Ruth, Ruth with her "diamond" bracelets and fur coats. . . .

"Exactly," Rollo beamed. "Just what I was going to say. Now what was that toast—"

Ruth leaned back in her chair and looked at Joan long and searchingly, the thin, pencilled line of her brows faintly arched into a question—"Why—why—"

Curtis was ordering the dinner, an elaborate, carefully chosen dinner that impressed the waiter and Ruth. He did not seem to hear, but when they left the table to dance he asked, "Who is Bill, Joan?"

"A school friend of mine."

Rollo knows him too. . . . that's how Ruth met him. . . . and I came here to dinner with them."

There—it was out. She'd told him. They went on dancing. Joan

CHAPTER XXXII

Curtis invited Ruth and Rollo for the next Wednesday, a dinner at the St. Francis, and dancing . . . the St. Francis. . . . the place she had gone with Rollo and Bill. . . .

Ruth was wildly excited. "This is better 'n' better. What I call luck. Usually when you get somebody with money enough to pay the bill they're too old to dance without danger of dropping dead in their tracks, and too dyspeptic to eat anything but bran muffins and cambric tea—ugh!"

She laughed, and showed all her perfect white teeth. "Will we set 'em back something this night? I'll say we will. What are you going to say? The white velvet. Well, you look like a million in it. No wonder, Francine's best model. You've sure got the luck, living with Madame's mother, in so strong you can't get fired, and that good looking Barstow crazy about you. . . . We'll all meet at the hotel. . . . I have to meet some snippers. Did I tell you Rollo gave me six pairs of silk stockings yesterday? French chiffon, $6.50 a pair. . . . Say, don't Curtis ever give you anything but flowers? Just drop him a hint once in a while . . . good night, you're slow."

Joan went home to dress.

There was the taste of ashes, bitter ashes, in her mouth.

Curtis blinked when he had his first sight of Ruth, waiting with Rollo in the lobby of the big hotel.

She floated toward them, Rollo, sparkling with reflected glory, bringing up in the rear. A royal barge, trailing a slight, black dory. The fur coat that the late Gillespie had given her, the close fitting silver gown, shining with a faint blue light, the rhinestone headband, the eight or nine bracelets, she had them all on, every one.

"Now that we're all here—let's say!" Rollo suggested, forgetting that he was the host.

He beamed at Joan vision to his near-sighted eyes. "Looking beautiful as ever. In fact—in fact—"

Five whiskeys and sodas on an empty stomach had left him a little careful about conversation—"I don't know when I've seen you more beautiful. Let's drink the same toast we drank last time we all got drunk together—Beautiful women—Owl—who kicked you?"

"Nobody kicked you. You're drunk!" Ruth cried angrily. "You do make me tired—always tanking up before the party starts—"

"Somebody certainly did kick me. Come to think of it, it was you. Recognize the rhinestones in your heel—been kicked before—"

Curtis' hand found Joan's under the tablecloth. He covered it with his protectively. "You mustn't mind them. That steady, kindly touch meant, 'I'll take care of you.'"

But Joan could not meet his gaze. She knew why Ruth had kicked Rollo. Warning him to be quiet. Not to speak of Bill—

"I was about to say, when I was stepped on," Rollo continued with dignity, "that I would propose the same toast—the same toast—"

"The same toast that you did on the night Bill and Ruth and you and I had dinner here together," Rollo said clearly. And all of a sudden she felt better. Why shouldn't Curtis know about that? What was wrong? And she wouldn't share secrets with Ruth, Ruth with her "diamond" bracelets and fur coats. . . .

"Exactly," Rollo beamed. "Just what I was going to say. Now what was that toast—"

In a Personal Way

INTERESTING bits of news mainly about people you know. A chronicle of the activities of the people of Bristol; their goings and comings.

Events for Tonight

Executive board meeting of Bucks County Council, Parent-Teacher Associations, at home of the president, Mrs. R. M. Fox, Morrisville.

ENTERTAIN GUESTS HERE

Robert Bertalette, Harrisburg, is passing the week-end with Dr. and Mrs. William C. LeCompte, 430 Radcliffe street.

James Lippincott, Wilmington, Del., spent this week with Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lippincott, East Circle.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hubbs, 255 Jackson street, have as a week-end guest, Miss Mabel Booth, Philadelphia.

Miss Florence Campbell, Philadelphia, is a guest over the week-end of Miss Margaret Neill, 1013 Pond street.

Mrs. Leslie Flum and children, Ruth and Frank, Chicago, Ill., will arrive next week to make a lengthy stay with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bunting, Wood street.

Mrs. H. H. Groom, Allentown, will week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis E. Radcliffe, 342 Jefferson avenue.

CHANGES OF RESIDENCES

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hubbs and family, will move shortly from Jackson street to Endicott, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gillooley and family are moving today from Taft street to Wilmington, Del.

VISIT OUT OF TOWN

Mrs. Charles Omrod and daughter, Betsy, 244 Jackson street, have been guests for a week of relatives in Morrisville.

Mrs. Charles Rudder, Jackson street, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Daniels, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Mary Moore, Fourth avenue, is the guest for a fortnight of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snell, Dundalk, Md.

Mrs. Brooke D. Espenship, North Radcliffe street, was a Thursday bridge luncheon guest of Mrs. Victor Myers, Trenton, N. J., at her summer home, Belmar, N. J. Covers were laid for 12.

Mrs. J. M. Maddox and son, Richard, Maple Beach, have been spending this week in Wilmington, Del., with Spencer Spear. Mr. Maddox will join his family over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Phipps, Fourth avenue, were overnight guests of friends in Dundalk, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hearn, 843 Garden street, spent several days in Seaford, Del., and attended the funeral of Mr. Hearn's late brother.

GUESTS AT HOMES HERE
Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Cooper, Cleveland street, were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson and daughter, Shirley, Philadelphia.

Ralph Waters, Germantown, has been the guest for a week of Mr. and Mrs. Neal J. McGinley, 236 Otter street.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Brown, 225 West Circle, had as guests for a day, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Brown and son, Rhawnhurst.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Grady, An-ndale, N. J., will week-end with P. J. Conley, McKinley street.

Sunday will be spent by Mr. and Mrs. Charles La Polla and son, Charles, Jr., 1418 Farragut avenue, in Pinewald, N. J., with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Moore, 324 Taft street, spent Monday at Philadelphia, attending the funeral of Thomas Stokes.

Miss Sara Horton, Burlington, N. J., is the guest of her grandfather, A. J. Hellyer, 233 Wood street.

Edward O'Boyle, Scranton, is passing the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Francis O'Boyle, 1605 Wilson avenue.

Anthony Carnvale, University of Pittsburgh, is vacationing with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Carnvale, Pond street.

OTHER PLACES BECKON
The Misses Elizabeth La Rue, Radcliffe street, and Charlotte Cadwallader, Yardley, spent the week-end at Rushland, attending the reunion at Camp Ohaus.

Miss Sara D. Diehl, Cedar street, will leave July 4th for a trip to Chicago and Yellowstone Park.

Mrs. Meta Mershon and Mrs. Deborah Douglass, Radcliffe street, have been guests of Mrs. Emma Sickles, Trenton, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. James La Rue, Radcliffe street, week-ended at Buck Hill Falls.

Sunday was spent by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Singer, Mill street, in Moorestown, N. J., as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Edelman.

Robert Cochran and children, Robert, Jr., and Margaret, 348 Harrison street, will go to Boyertown, Saturday, to pay a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weller. Margaret will remain for a week, while the remainder of the party will return home Sunday evening.

Miss Elizabeth Rue, 210 Jefferson avenue, was a Sunday and Monday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Walton, Andalusia.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shire, West Circle, and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Spencer and family, Madison street, spent Sunday at Easton.

Mrs. J. E. W. Tracy and family, Radcliffe street, have gone to Lake Dunmore, Vt., to pass the summer.

Mrs. Harvey Phillips and children, Bruce and Nancy, Swain street, will leave the forepart of July for Chicago, Ill., to make a protracted stay with relatives.

Mrs. Paul White and son, New Buckle street, were week-end visitors of Mrs. Frank Pursell, Penns Manor.

LARGE GATHERING OCCURS; HONOR OF MAURICE MCCURRY

Orchestra Music and Cards Are Indulged In By The Guests

An orchestra played old and new tunes, last evening, for the group of young folks who gathered in A. O. H. Hall, Corson street, as guests of Maurice McCurry, Venice avenue.

The affair was a celebration of the young host's graduation from Northeast Catholic High School, Philadelphia, Tuesday. Red and white tones were used in the decorative scheme.

"500" was played and prizes earned by Miss Dorothy Dugan, James Blanche, Mrs. Neal McVaine and Mrs. Joseph Foster.

Guests were: the Misses Dorothy Dugan, Mary Jo McGee, Catherine Armstrong, Rita McGee, Ruth Blanche, Virginia McVaine, Ethel Snyder, Mary Flanagan, Rose Stephenson, Mary Lynn, Annabelle Barrett, Beatrice Leets, Mary Williams, Ann McGee, Mary Jane Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCurry, Mrs. Joseph Foster, Mrs. A. Moore, Mrs. Neil McVaine, Mrs. Warren Armstrong, and Thomas Barlett, James Blanche, John Blanche, John Mulligan, Francis Nealis, Francis Dugan, Jack Jeffries, Robert McCurry, Jack Price, Charles McGee, Jack Fitzgerald, Alfred McVaine, Thomas Flanagan, John Dougherty, John McCarthy, John Clark and Felix Tomlinson, Bristol; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gallagher and Miss Eleanor Gallagher, Cornwells; and Miss Catherine Williams, Pittsburgh.

SOFT TWEED POPULAR FOR TRAVEL TOGS IN TIME OF VACATIONS

By Alice Langeller
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS (INS)—Travel togs will be terribly tweedy this summer, but this means a nice soft and summery sort of tweed which is the most practical and popular of all tailored wear.

Travel coats are trim and frigid, with tricky scarves, belts and fastenings. One in an oatmeal tweed has a scarf-collar which slips through a large ring and the same idea comes for the belt which pulls through and fastens at the back. There are raglan sleeves and square metal buttons on the slantwise pockets.

Like a small loan to house-holders is the means of helping them meet an emergency, calling for money to pay bills, rent, taxes, and interest on their home, building and loan dues, for sickness, and other needs.

YOU CAN BORROW FROM $10 TO $300

"Phone Bristol 2616, or call and see Manager Benjamin Silber, your old friend, well known in Bristol and vicinity as "The Life Insurance Salesman."

PENNSYLVANIA FINANCE COMPANY OF BRUCK COUNTY
Cor. Jefferson Ave. and Cedar St. Bristol, Pa.
We Handle General Insurance

A pastel-shaded tweed coat has intricate cut and cunning collar and a new short, full cuffed traveling taitleur comes in black and white Saxony tweed with tiny pockets and two buttons at the neck.

Parisienne prefer their tweed travel coats of plain fabric but checks and patterns are very chic this season. Madeleine Vionnet is using black and white checked tweed with staid collar that joins its revers and fastens on three ball buttons of green crystal. The black leather belt is fastened with three silver slides.

Goupy uses green and erige checked wool for a tube-like travel taitleur. The jacket is green and collarless with black buttons that can fasten it up to the neck or it can be left unbuttoned to make big revers.

Something terribly smart for traveling also comes in a light and dark gray checked tweed. The pockets are set in under the front panels of the jacket which has no fastenings. The skirt buttons up the center-front just below the waistline on bone buttons. A Bordeaux-red rough silk blouse accompanies it.

Classified Ads deliver the goods.

PAY UP—CHEER UP!
OUR SMALL LOAN SERVICE WILL HELP YOU DO BOTH

Often when persons begin to feel a little "blue" over their financial affairs, they take courage and "come through" if they can get temporary assistance.

The business man may secure a loan from a bank to pay his debtors and "ride him over" until he is able to "get on his feet again." This loan helps him greatly and he is soon in a position to repay the bank.

Like a small loan to house-holders is the means of helping them meet an emergency, calling for money to pay bills, rent, taxes, and interest on their home, building and loan dues, for sickness, and other needs.

YOU CAN BORROW FROM $10 TO $300

"Phone Bristol 2616, or call and see Manager Benjamin Silber, your old friend, well known in Bristol and vicinity as "The Life Insurance Salesman."

PENNSYLVANIA FINANCE COMPANY OF BRUCK COUNTY
Cor. Jefferson Ave. and Cedar St. Bristol, Pa.
We Handle General Insurance

Edwin Harker is confined to his home at 211 Wood street, because of illness.

—THE— SHOPPER'S GUIDE —AND— BUSINESS DIRECTORY

The Advertisers Listed in This Section Are Just As Far Away From You As Your Telephone! When In Need of Anything, Look This List Over—No Doubt You Can Get Just What You Want At the Right Price!

JUSTICE OF PEACE

J. LAUGHLIN — JUSTICE
Licenses of All Kinds
REAL ESTATE BROKER
Bristol Pike and Maynes Lane
Dial 2810 Croydon, Pa.

PHILA. EXPRESS

Daily Trips
FARRUGGIO'S EXPRESS
901 Mansion St. Dial 2953
Philadelphia: 7 N. Front St.
Phone Market 3543

Papering—Decorating

C. THOS. HOFFMAN
631 New Buckley St., Bristol, Pa.
For Limited Time Only
Rooms, $5 Up
Material Included

WHOLESALE BEER

Phone Your Order For
BEER BY THE CASE
On Ice — Ready For Your Party
G. CATTANI — Hayes St. and Farragut Ave.
Phone 2113 — Free Delivery

ROOFING—SPOUTING

JAMES L. MCGEE
Tin and Asbestos Roofing
—Spouting—
331 Washington Street
Phone 2125

Classified Advertising Department

Announcements

Deaths

SINACORI—At Bristol, Pa., June 23, 1933, Leonardo, husband of the late Rose Sinacori and father of Vito. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral on Monday, June 26, at 9 a. m., from his late residence, 726 Trenton avenue. High mass in St. Ann's Church at 10 o'clock. Interment in St. Mark's Cemetery.

Funeral Directors

UNDERTAKER—William I. Murphy, Est., 316 Jefferson avenue, Bristol, Pa. Phone 2417.

Business Service

ELECTRICAL WORK—Motors and lighting, ranges, heaters, George P. Bailey, Bath Rd., Bristol. Dial 7126.

Building and Contracting

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Employment

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Help Wanted—Female

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Merchandise

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Articles for Sale

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALES LADIES—Special employment for married women. $15 weekly and your dresses free representing nationally known Fashion Frocks. No canvassing. No investment. Send dress size. Fashion Frocks, Dept. S-691, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Funeral Home

CONVENIENT appointments. Complete facilities for large or small funerals. Motorized coaches and funeral cars.

Prices within reach of those in even the most modest circumstances.

Day and night service every day in the year.

HARVEY S. RUE EST.

Funeral Service
314 Cedar Street
Bristol, Pa.

Navy Building Program to Begin at Once

Secy of Navy SWANSON

AIR CRAFT CARRIER, RANGER

Four 10,000 ton cruisers, of the type of the new U. S. S. Indianapolis and two aircraft carriers, sisters of the 15,000 ton Ranger, now under construction, are included in the naval building program announced by Secretary of the Navy Swanson. Twenty destroyers, four submarines and two gunboats complete the $238,000,000 program. The ships will be built under the supervision of Rear Admiral Emory Land, chief of naval construction.

Building Program Acclaimed by Navy

By ROY WILLIS
Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 23.—Once in danger of becoming a third-rate sea power, the United States, thanks to the new navy building program announced by Secretary of the Navy Claude Swanson, is at last on its way to its rightful place in the forefront of the nations as regards naval strength.

NAVY JUBILANT
Coming, as it did, after whispered rumors of further cuts in naval appropriations, the announcement that Uncle Sam will spend $238,000,000 in strengthening his first line of defense during the next three years brought great joy to the men who go down to the sea in ships of war. Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, Chief of Naval Construction, to whom Secretary Swanson outlined the building program and who received instructions to "get under way at once," could hardly conceal his exultation. "This is the first time since the World War," said the admiral, "that we have a definite Navy policy. Now we know what to expect."

THE PROGRAM
The vessels to be built, numbering 82 all told, will be distributed in the various classifications as follows:

Two aircraft carriers modeled after the Ranger, now under construction, of 15,000 tons each; four light cruisers of 10,000 tons, the type of the Indianapolis, newest of Uncle Sam's fighting ships; four destroyers of 1,850 tons and sixteen destroyers of 1,500 tons; four submarines of 1,400 tons and two gunboats of 2,000 tons. The entire tonnage thus added to the Navy will be 111,000 tons, which is still short of the London treaty limits by 177,000 tons. The 10,000-ton cruisers will be armed with 15 six-inch guns.

WORK DIVIDED

Although definite plans for distribution of the construction work on the building program have not been made as yet, it has been the policy of the Navy Department to construct about fifty per cent of all naval vessels in navy yards, letting out contracts to private shipyards for the remainder.

Regardless of where the ships are built, the program means a big increase in employment and will save the jobs of many shipyard workers who were elated for dismissal owing to lack of construction work. Funds for the project will come out of the $3,300,000,000 public works appropriation. Present plans call for the expenditure of $46,000,000 the first year, $105,000,000 the second and $87,000,000 the third.

REACTION ABROAD

While the new program will fall far short of bringing the United States Navy up to treaty limits, it is almost certain that it will cause uneasiness abroad. It will serve as an object lesson to all concerned as an indication of what Uncle Sam is likely to do if other powers persist in naval construction on a large scale.

One observer in close touch with disarmament matters at Geneva offered the opinion that the announcement of the U. S. building program will do more to promote harmony at the disarmament parley than years of talking, for it is more than probable that if the squabbling powers at Geneva do not reach a decision to make drastic cuts in armament, the present U. S. program, big as it is, will be the first step towards placing Uncle Sam in a position where he can dictate terms to anyone, backed by the finest army and navy in the world.

DAVE'S DELICATESSEN

By MILT GROSS

READ THE COURIER
CLASSIFIEDS

Bargain
Hunters

YOU'LL find it interesting, and profitable too, and you'll find the BARGAINS you're looking for.

BRISTOL COURIER
WANT-ADS

SPORTS

ODD FELLOWS SWAMP

THE PARKLAND NINE PROMISED OVER WEEK-END

LOWER BUCKS COUNTY LEAGUE
Last Night's Result
ODD FELLOWS, 7; PARKLAND, 1

"Dutch" Afterbach continued his heavy assaulting of the Lower Bucks County League pitchers last night on the Emile diamond as the Bristol Odd Fellows swamped the Parkland A. A. team, 7-1, in the final game of the first half of the Lower Bucks County League.

Afterbach connected for a single, double, and triple, in three trips to the plate and it marked the third consecutive fray where the Odd Fellows' backstopper made three hits. His batting lately has put him near the top in the league's leading batsman column.

The Oddies made nine hits off Beck and Holland, the visitors' twirlers. Ashby held the Parkland team to five hits and the only batsman he had trouble with was Holland, who found him for three consecutive singles. "Ted" Praul pitched the last frame for the winners.

Line-ups:

L. O. O. F.	r	h	a	e
Afterbach 2	2	3	6	3
D. Still 5	1	1	0	0
B. Praul 6	1	1	2	2
L. Hibbs 4	0	0	4	0
Ashby 1	0	1	0	0
G. Hibbs 3	0	1	6	0
Andy 7	1	1	2	0
J. Morrell 9	1	1	0	0
G. Still 8	1	0	1	0
T. Praul 1	0	0	0	0
Totals	7	9	21	7

Parkland A. A.	r	h	a	e
Forrest 8	1	1	3	0
Whitney 3	0	0	5	0
Holland 4	0	3	3	2
Gotwall 7	0	0	2	0
Downing 5	0	1	1	0
Tryon 6	0	0	0	2
Williams 9	0	0	0	0
Beck 1	0	0	1	0
Pursell 2	0	0	3	2
Hibbard 4	0	0	0	0
Totals	1	5	18	6

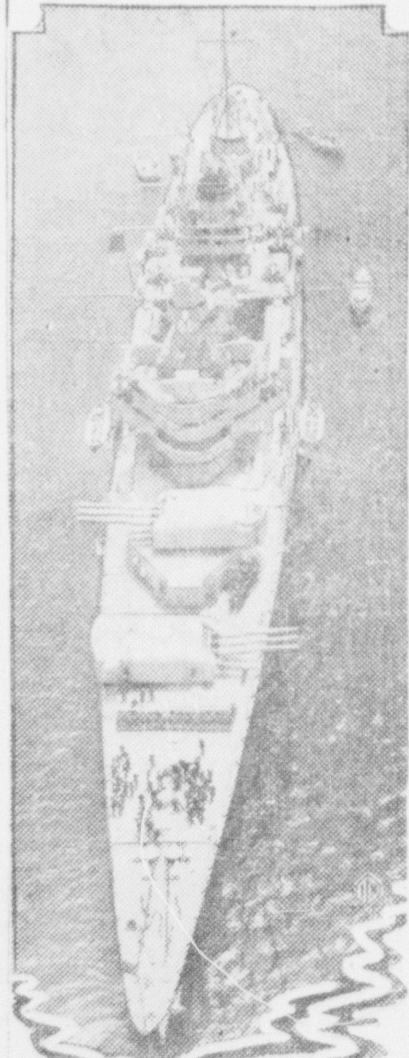

Parkland 1 0 0 0 0 0-1
L. O. O. F. 3 0 2 2 0 x-7

Stolen bases: Afterbach 2, D. Still, Morrell, F. Still, Whitney.
Two base hits: Afterbach, Forrest, Downing.
Three base hit: Afterbach.
Double play: B. Praul to L. Hibbs.
Passed ball: Ashby.
Hit by pitched ball: B. Praul, Beck.
Struck out: by Ashby, 5; by Praul, 1; by Beck, 2; by Holland, 1.
Base on balls: off Ashby, 2; off Beck, 2; off Holland, 0.
Umpires: David, Krouse.

JONES NINE WINS

The Jones A. C. broke their losing streak on Newportville field last night, defeating Eddington A. C., 5-3, in a closely-fought battle. The Eddington club rallied in the final session and threw a scare into the Jones club when with two runners on base "Smokey" Sabatini bore down to retire the side after one tally had already crossed the plate. Jones A. C. were out, eight to five, but the winners bunched their hits and came through to score in the first, third, fourth and fifth innings. Three errors on the part of the Eddington team also aided the winners in scoring their tallies.

Our New Watchdog

An excellent airview of the new 10,000-ton U. S. cruiser Portland at anchor in Los Angeles harbor. The Portland is the latest addition to the Pacific Fleet. Four more like her have been authorized under the new naval building program.

PLENTY OF BASEBALL IS PROMISED OVER WEEK-END

There will be plenty of baseball for the Bristol and vicinity fans over the week-end.

On St. Ann's field tomorrow afternoon the Jefferson A. C. nine with their revamped line-up will meet the Tabor A. C. "Mules" have been losing lately and a new line-up seems to be on the card for the morrow.

Paul Keating will be lead-off man and play second base; Tomlinson will give way to Tentucci at short; Britton will be at first; Roberts at third; the outfield being composed of McClafferty, Wright and Ed Keating. Either Fry or Hart will do the hurling, with Vandine behind the plate.

On Sullivan's field, the Furmans of the Bristol Suburban League will play the Young Italians, independent champions of Bristol. The Furman team made a good showing for their first year in baseball and are determined to give the Italians a close and exciting battle. The Italians have just started a new winning streak, the other six game streak being broken by the Hibernians.

Bristol Park A. A. will battle the Mack A. C. on their field at Oak Avenue and State road, Croydon. Park A. A. has been going strong since they acquired their new hurler, "Johnny" Langdon.

Newport Road Men's Club will play the Depression A. C. nine today on Leedom's field and meet the Atlas A. C. of Philadelphia on the Newportville grounds tomorrow. The Newport team has won six straight games.

The Edgely A. C. will play the Roebeling Holy Name Society on the Edgely grounds tomorrow. The same nine that represents Edgely in the Bristol Twilight League will take the field tomorrow. Roebeling played Edgely earlier in the season and lost out to the home team, 5-4, in a thirteen innings game. At Emile, Howard Black's Emile A. A. has another tough game on their hands in matching the strong Towanda A. A., of Philadelphia. The Emile nine has been going strong lately and are winning their games in fine style. Their opposition has been the greatest seen on the Emile field and those who go there see some very close battles. In fact the last five games have ended with one run difference between Emile and their opponents.

Black will use "Ike" Watson on the hill with Bruce doing the catching. The remainder of the line-up will be the same as last Sunday.

The Bensalem Professionals will play the Langhorne Colored Giants at Langhorne.

Other games are scheduled at Echo Beach, Croydon, and Cornwells.

Twilight League First Half Won By "Hibos"

Continued from Page One

single by Fields, and a hit batsman filled the bags with two out, but the hurler got Whyno on a roller to Dougherty to end the inning.

"Charlie" Whyno toed the slab for the losers and with the exception of a bad second inning was in fine form. In the second, he passed Joe Dougherty and Gaffney followed with a double on the railroad bank to score the baserunner. Leyden advanced Gaffney and Gossline whiffed. Ennis hit a roller to short, who errored, to allow the second run to cross the plate. Connors forced Ennis at second.

The third Hibernian run came in the last part of the fifth when Ennis doubled, was sacrificed to third and scored on a passed ball. He was out at the plate but Ampire dropped the ball to allow the Ampire to change his decision.

"Joey" Roe was the leader of the Hibos on the offense with two hits in three trips to the plate. John Dougherty played well behind the plate, getting three runners on short taps in front of the plate and throwing out one would-be stealer.

Previous to the last two teams had won eight and lost two and were in a deadlock for first place. The second half of the league will open on Monday night with the Edgely team meeting the Independents on St. Ann's field.

St. Ann's	r	h	a	e
Fields rf	0	1	0	0
Pico 2b	0	1	3	2
Whyno p	0	0	0	5
Oriola 1b	0	0	0	0
Bonice 1f	0	1	0	0
Angelo c	0	0	5	1
Di Tanna cf	0	0	0	0
Juno 3b	0	0	0	2
Di Blassio ss	0	0	1	2
Di Risi	0	0	0	0
Totals	0	3	18	12

* Batted for Di Blassio in the 7th.

A. O. H.	r	h	a	e
Connors cf	0	0	2	0
Roe ss	0	2	1	0
Jno. Dougherty p	0	0	5	4
F. Dougherty 3b	0	1	1	3
Jos. Dougherty 2b	1	0	1	1
Gaffney 1f	1	1	2	0
Leyden 1b	0	0	8	0
Gossline rf	0	0	0	0
Ennis p	1	1	0	2
Totals	3	5	21	10

St. Ann's 0 0 0 0 0 0-0
A. O. H. 0 2 0 1 0 x-3

Stolen bases: Fields, Pico.
Two base hits: Ennis, Gaffney.
Sacrifice: Jno. Dougherty.
Hit by pitched ball: Pico.

Struck out: by Whyno, 5; by Ennis, 6.

Base on balls: off Whyno, 1; off Ennis, 1.
Umpires: Riola and Fields.
Scorer: Juno.

ARRANGE TILT

The Cubans nine will play the Lafayette A. C. on the Pine street field this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Bargains Galore in the Classified Ads

Air Race Entry

James Wedell, of New Orleans, La., who is one of speed birds who will race from New York to Los Angeles for the Bendix prize on July 1. The race is a feature of the National Air Races to be held in the coast city. Wedell is one of the country's best-known speed fliers.

NEWS BRIEFS

SCRANTON—(INS)—Fred W. Pfaff, who lost both his legs in the dynamiting of a pay car of the Glen Alden Coal Company at Warrior Run several years ago, is desirous of sitting in

In Bendix Race

Major Alexander P. de Seversky, Russian World War ace, one of the favored entries in the Bendix Race, from New York to Los Angeles, a feature of the National Air Races, which will open at Los Angeles on July 1. Major Seversky plans to make the flight non-stop.

F. D. 'Bomb' Suspect

Joseph Doldo, 20-year-old Watertown, N. Y., youth, who, according to police, admitted having mailed a crude bomb to President Roosevelt last February. A threatening letter written on the stationery of a local bank caused his arrest. He is believed mentally deranged.

Scranton City Council. Pfaff will enter the councilmanic race at the primaries in September on the Republican ticket, he announced.

CHARLESTON—(INS)—On his farm near Marianna, Lynn Swihart shot and killed a 20-pound raccoon which had killed two chickens and wounded a number of others.

ALLENTOWN—(INS)—The commencement exercises of the Allentown High School were broadcast over a local radio station.

THE CITY IN THE SUNSET

There's a City in the Sunset
That waits to welcome me;
I'm longing for the moment
When it's beauties I shall see.
Its spires are bright and golden,
Its realms from sorrow free;
Nestling in the Sunset,
God's city waits for me.

At eve I sit and wonder,
Gaze out into the West;
I hear the bells of Heaven
Ring out at God's behest.
The sky is wild with color,
The world with beauty dressed;
Somewhere within the Sunset
I'll find my heart's long quest.

—FORREST H. BILDERBACK, JR.,
Bristol, Pa.

Wills Probated In Number of Estates

Continued from Page One

Frank Shive, of Quakertown, amounting to $170. In the estate of Jonas Cressman, of Springfield, letters of administration were granted to Edwin J. Cressman, amounting to $300. Ernest F. vonStrack was granted the letters of administration in the estate of Margaret von Strack, of Morrisville, amounting to $250.

Courier Classified Ads Are Gold Mines

Why?

has our business grown for the past thirteen years here in Bristol, and why are we always busy?

Because

our modernly - equipped studio and finishing plant are always at your service.

Call us day or night for auto accidents that should be photographed for court. See us if you are having trouble with your Kodak, or if you are not getting the best results. We will be glad to help you. There is no charge—it is a part of our Kodak Service.

NICHOLS

Studio and Laboratory:
112 Wood Street

TAYLOR'S Central Service Station

Bristol Pike and Otter Street

New Greasing Service

We will call for your car, give it complete greasing, and return to your door, for as low as 75c, including spring spraying. Charges made according to size of car. Work done by Morris Louderbaugh.

TRY OUR AUTOMOBILE SERVICE

100% PENNA. OIL USED EXCLUSIVELY

Direct From Refinery Under Permit No. 64

Phone 2132 or 9813

U. S. Net Stars at Wimbledon

By BURNLEY

Keith GLEDHILL
NATIONAL DOUBLES CHAMP—WITH VINES.

LES STOFEN
BLOND LOS ANGELES GIANT WHO SEEMS HEADED FOR A BRILLIANT TENNIS FUTURE!

TRY AND GET THIS CROWN AWAY FROM MUH!

STOFEN, GLEDHILL AND VINES WILL PLAY IN THE WIMBLEDON TOURNEY LATE THIS MONTH!

VINES WILL BE OUT TO REPEAT HIS LAST YEAR'S TRIUMPH!

BURNLEY

© 1933 King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

BESIDES the regular Davis Cup line-up composed of Vines, Allison, Lett and Van Ryn, there are two other American tennis stars scheduled to take part in important European net events this year.

Lester Stofen, of Los Angeles, and Keith Gledhill, of Santa Barbara, Cal., two of America's most promising young racket-wielders, are both scheduled to play at Wimbledon.

Gledhill and Stofen will be making their Wimbledon debuts under the big English tourney gets under way shortly.

Gledhill, Stanford University's contribution to the tennis world, is the favorite doubles partner of the great Ellsworth Vines. This pair defeated America's best doubles combinations last summer to win the national doubles title. Listed to play in the doubles competition at Wimbledon, they will surely be one of the favored pairs.

Young Lester Stofen is perhaps the most interesting of these three young racket-wielders. The tallest, ranking tennis player in America, he is 6 feet 4 inches in height. He is 22 years old, with the build of a heavyweight boxer and the profile of a moving picture actor.

Shortly before leaving for Europe, Stofen played in an Eastern tourney and showed such remarkable tennis that the experts in that sector tabbed him as the man to watch in next year's Davis Cup.

The United States team in the world's best round game in beating the smart Sidney Wood in straight sets. In the final match of the tourney Stofen forced the famous Wilmer Allison to five sets before bowing to the No. 2 ranking American player.

The play of this brilliant young Los Angeles net star will be watched with great interest when the Wimbledon tournament starts.

Of course, Ellsworth Vines will be strongly favored to repeat his sensational Wimbledon victory of last year. The defending champion is hitting the ball harder than ever, and the English courts are especially suited to slow up the pace of Vines' smashes.

On the other hand, the slow, saggy French courts seem especially designed to slow up the pace of Vines' smashes.

Tinkling bells, and the clink of silver

IN A Chinese fairy story one reads about the Emperor's garden, where rare and colorful plants from all over the world were constantly flowering.

It was the duty of the honorable head gardener to watch for the most beautiful of the blooms and tie to the stem of each a little silver bell. As the flowers swayed in the breeze, the bells tinkled with sweet music. Thus the courtiers and the distinguished visitors strolling along the paths, were sure to see the finest specimens.

This was the Emperor's way of saying "I have something extra fine that you should see: look this way and you'll be repaid."

In the advertising columns of this paper are similar messages addressed to YOU. Read them and you will hear the clink of silver. Our merchants are saying "We have some extra values. We have some especially seasonable articles that you should see. Come to our stores and you will be repaid."

You have nothing to lose when you accept this invitation. In fact, when you fail to do so, you're missing some of the very news for which you bought this paper!

It pays to read all advertisements in this paper